"TRUCKERS" LOSE ANOTHER

Horse Shoe McCann's Pitching and Good Hitting Did the Work.

The Home Team Fielded Nicely, But They Failed to Hit the Ball Satisfactorily. This is the Fifth Straight Game the Boys Have Lost.

It took eleven innings yesterday to settle the question of supremacy between our lads and the visitors. But the home team couldn't do anything with the man who carries with him a whole barrel of the look, said to be the property of the Trunkers, who should not lose heart, but cheer up, encouraged by the fact that they are not alone in their sadness, for this very same pitcher and this very same team play no favorites, and on other teams in the league can, and will testify that they are no "clutch," and when a team goes in a game against the "Magicians" with that idea they are apt to have their dreams dispelled.

The game yesterday so far as the home team was concerned was a good one from a betting standpoint. Hallman's two errors in right field being the only ones made, but the great secret of their failure to win yesterday's game was their inability to hit the deceptive curves of Horse Shoe McCann just when a hit was needed, while the visitors were more fortunate, and succeeded in hitting Clark for four hits, a double, and three singles in the eighth, which was practically "the straw that broke the camel's back," at any rate it gave the visitors even chances to win, which they did in the eleventh by Hallman allowing Welch's single to pass him, allowing the runner to reach third base. The next man up went out easy, making two out and Welch on third, when "Horse shoe" made a "fungo" hit just back of third base and the matter was settled.

The features of the game were the fielding of Hargrove, Viox, Padden, and Little and the hitting of Padden, who was at bat four times and made four hits, which fattened his batting average considerably. Two games will be played this afternoon commencing at two o'clock—both for the same price of admission. See the score:

And Still the Work of Remodeling Goes On. We are actually sacrificing the balance of our stock of clothing. The trouble is, the sizes are all broken; no regular lots, but we might just have the size you want. If we have, there'll be no trouble to sell you. We have about 50 dozen shirts we're closing out at 60c pair, worth from $1 to $1.50. They are mostly all large sizes and worth twice the money we're charging. J. Resner & Anthony, 114 High street, second door from Crawford street.

Whatever You Do Don't Miss Hammett's Advertisements. Hundreds of yards of goods sacrificed. Come early for the choice things. Hammett's, 320 High street.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

An Interesting Summary of the Day's Happenings.

Police Officer Tatem is off on ten days leave.

The County Court adjourned for the term yesterday.

A large colored excursion came in on the Seaboard Air Line yesterday.

Two drunken negro women were locked up yesterday in the county jail.

There will be a big display of fireworks at Port Norfolk on the 10th of July.

The most of our space is given today to the closing of the public schools.

The Central Church Sabbath School will give their annual picnic to Newport News on Wednesday, July 10th.

Mr. Lee, of Baltimore, formerly manager for F. J. Friedman, in this city, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. Frederick Wittke, of Baltimore, is spending his school vacation with his sister, Mrs. Chris G. Euler, of Park View.

Sneak thieves have stolen chairs from out the front porch of a number of residence of this city. Nothing is safe from them.

The Monumental Sunday School carried so many people out of town that the streets looked deserted at times yesterday.

The tug Wahnetta, left for James river yesterday to bring the old masons down. They will arrive here on Monday and will be inspected soon after.

A colored man who drives a truck for Nichols & White was stricken with paralysis yesterday morning. Dr. McMurrin was called in and made him as comfortable as possible.

As Saunders, the negro who went into the union depot and stole a watch and chain from Mr. Maurice Ball, one of the workmen, on Tuesday, which was recovered in Norfolk in a pawn shop, was on yesterday sent to jail for sixty days.

Yesterday a small daughter of Mr. Wilkinson was returning from school when she met a negro girl on County street, who walked up to her and took her umbrella out of her hand and went off with it. The little girl went home crying, but the girl could not be found.

Our route boys again request their customers to not require them to call the second and sometimes third time for the money Saturday. They play ball when they are delayed their sport is ruined. If you cannot be at home when they call leave the money for them.

Mr. J. Whit Ashton was on yesterday appointed store-keeper for the Seaboard Air Line, in place of J. W. Jordan, removed.

Mr. Ashton is a native of the city and held a position on the road for over thirty years. Mr. Jordan came here from North Carolina some few years ago.

The Ice Palace.

An "International Tea" was presented at the Ice Palace last night. Different nations were represented by pretty girls in the national costumes who served at their respective tables.

The American tables furnished ice cream and cake at the usual prices. German peasants served frankfurters, pretzels and lemonade, or Hirs's root beer, for five cents. The dark-eyed Spaniards sold cigars and cigarettes. The French peasant girls served salad, olives, waters and tea for ten cents.

The following programme was presented:

Selection—Ophelia Orchestra. "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." Piano Solo—Misses Mary and Della Nash. "La Vierge Marie." Miss Gaskins. Spanish Song—Miss Lamond. Spanish Song—Miss Hays.

This evening at 7 o'clock there will be an interesting entertainment given by the children at the Ice Palace. The following attractive programme has been arranged for the occasion:

PART I.

Doll drill by fourteen little girls.

Burlesque band, by twelve little boys.

"The Highland Fling," costume dance.

"Spreading a Rumor," costume song.

PART II.

"Counting Thro' the Rye."

Picture and song, "Ninety Years Ago."

Slatuary.

Death of Mr. John Wilkins.

Mr. John Wilkins, a well known citizen, died at his residence, No. 532 Fayette street, very suddenly Thursday night. He retired about 10 p. m., and before midnight he was dead. Dr. Geo. W. O. Manpin, City Coroner, was notified and summoned the following jury: John Harrell, John Burnham, J. W. Wolf, C. L. Baily and Luther C. White.

The jury viewed the body and then examined several witnesses, after which they retired and consulted together for a while and returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from causes unknown to them.

Mr. Wilkins is a brother of H. B. Wilkins.
